Key terms to understand the stock selection criterion

Term	What it Means?	What's Good?	Our Portfolio
Beta	Sensitivity to market ups/downs	🔻 Lower	✅
CAPM Exp Annual	Expected return based on risk & market	🔺 Higher	✅
Actual Annual	Real return from the stock	🔺 Higher	✅
Jensen's Alpha	Extra return beyond expectation	🔺 Higher	✅
Volatility	How bumpy the ride is	🔻 Lower	✅
Sharpe Ratio	Return per unit of risk	🔺 Higher	✅
Weighted Score	Our overall rating combining all metrics	🔺 Higher	✅

How do we manage the risks?

- Lower Beta & Volatility → Your portfolio avoids big swings
- Positive Alpha → Stocks earn more than expected
- Higher Sharpe Ratio → You get more return per unit of risk
- Only strong, stable performers are included.

What can you expect?

- Steady Growth: Forecasted annual return of 18.6% vs 10% for the market
- Less Risky: Smoother performance, fewer big drops than S&P 500
- Beats Savings Account: Earns far more than bank deposits while keeping money safe
- Long-Term Focus: On track to fund your NGO in 4–6 years

How we’ll track the progress?

📊 Milestones we’ll track

Portfolio Value Growth → Is your money steadily increasing?
Beating the Market → Are you ahead of the S&P 500 benchmark?
Risk Control → Are volatility and drawdowns staying within safe limits?
Sharpe Ratio Trend → Is each unit of risk delivering healthy returns?

📆 Review Schedule

Quarterly Updates → Clear, simple reports on growth, risks, and next steps.
Annual Deep Review → Check alignment with your 4–6 year NGO funding goal.
On-Demand Review → Anytime you want clarity or have concerns.

Your Safety Net: Contingency Fund Guidelines

- Maintain a separate emergency fund (not in stocks)
- High-yield savings account → safe & accessible
- Money market fund/treasury bills → low risk, small returns
- Keep 3–6 months of living expenses aside.
- Ensures you never need to touch NGO funds early.

Conclusion

Your goals remain at the centre. You can rest easy and focus on college while your money is working harder than a savings account.

Together, we ensure stability + growth → your NGO becomes reality!
